

NEWSLETTER

RTC CONTROL SYSTEMS (PTY) LTD

November 2020

All electric plug adapters must now come with a new symbol – what you need to know.

The SABS has issued new standards for SA's electric plug systems.

- All new adapters are now required to come embossed with a symbol that warns users that adapters must not be plugged into one another.

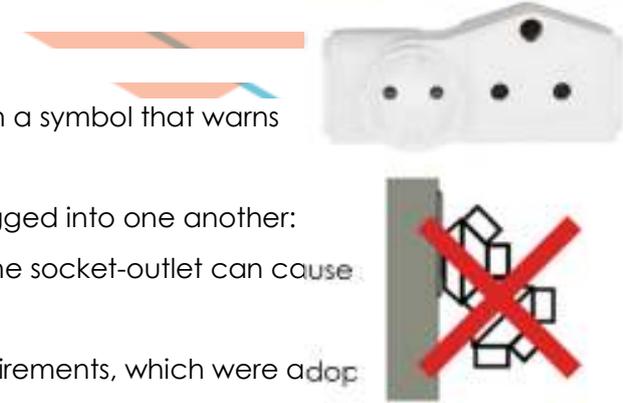

The symbol warns users that adapters are not permitted to be plugged into one another:

This was due to the safety risk to the consumer as the straining of the socket-outlet can cause a short-circuit between the neutral and live pins.

The standard is part of the SANS 164-0 plug and outlet system requirements, which were adopted in Africa at the start of 2018.

It is now compulsory to install the new SANS 164-2 plug and outlet system, which supplements the three-pronged, round pin plug.

The new SANS 164-2 plug has three pins, including an earth pin to protect the users from electric shock. But two pin plugs are still allowed in South Africa for products that do not require to be earthed, including cell phone chargers. The old three-pronged plugs are also still allowed, but new outlets must accommodate the new plug.

Staff Birthdays

Luhann Joubert	-	08 th November
Theresa Barkhuizen	-	14 th November
Stephanie Krugel	-	14 th November

SKILLS DEVELOPMENT

Congratulations to Mr. Keenan Fernandez for obtaining great results for your N1 training.

Congratulations to Mr. Tellus Ngwenya on obtaining his National Diploma in Engineering: Electrical

CorporateLiveWire
SOUTH AFRICA
PRESTIGE AWARDS

2020 WINNER

RTC CONTROL SYSTEMS
Electrical Engineering Specialist of the Year

CorporateLiveWire
SOUTH AFRICA
PRESTIGE AWARDS
2020

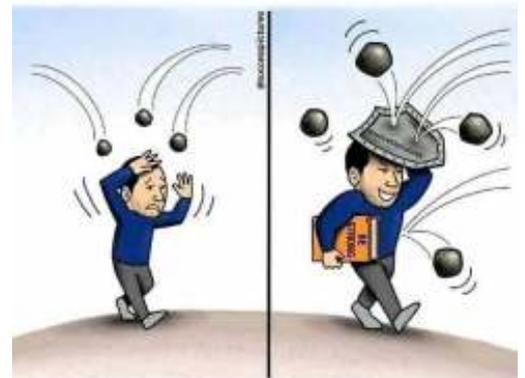

SALES TARGET WINNER

Congratulations and Thank You to Mrs. Stacy-Lee Pretorius on reaching your sales target for the month of October.

You have set your target, you consistently keep on working hard to achieve the target, today your hard work paid up. Congratulations on achieving what you have set, and may you reach much higher targets in the future and that too you achieve.

LIFE DOESN'T GET EASIER.

YOU JUST GET STRONGER.

@successpictures

Call us on 011 903 7000 or natasha@rtccs.co.za to place your orders today.